* H 1 2 1 1 - V - 1 *

1           The term does not include a transaction or arrangement made, insured,

8           principal dwelling.

9           (6)   Residential real estate. – As defined in G.S. 53-244.030(31).

10   "§ 53-274.3. Applicability; construction.

11           (a)   A home equity investment loan is a residential mortgage loan for purposes of this
12           Chapter and Chapters 24 and 45 of the General Statutes and is subject to all otherwise applicable
13           State residential mortgage laws, including licensing, collection, foreclosure, and usury laws.

14           (b)   A home equity investment loan shall not be treated as a reverse mortgage transaction
15           for purposes of any exclusion, exception, or limitation under Chapter 24 or Chapter 45 of the 16           General Statutes unless the transaction independently satisfies Article 21 of this Chapter.

17           (c)   Regardless of how a transaction is denominated, labeled, or structured, including as 18           an investment, option, sale of future appreciation, sale of an interest in equity, shared appreciation
19           agreement, shared value agreement, or similar arrangement, any transaction that in substance
20           meets the definition of a home equity investment loan under G.S. 53-274.2 is governed by this 21           Article.

22   "§ 53-274.4. Licensing; home equity investment loan authorization and fees; purchasers
23   and assignees.

24           (a)   No person shall make, broker, or service a home equity investment loan with respect
25           to a dwelling located in this State unless the person is authorized to engage in the mortgage
26           business under Article 19B of this Chapter.

27           (b)   A person authorized to engage in the mortgage business under Article 19B of this 28           Chapter shall not make a home equity investment loan on or after October 1, 2026, unless the 29           person is authorized by the Commissioner to make home equity investment loans under this 30           subsection. The Commissioner may accept applications and fees under this subsection before 31           October 1, 2026. An application for authorization shall be in writing, in the form prescribed by 32           the Commissioner, and accompanied by a nonrefundable fee of five hundred dollars ($500.00).
33           Authorization under this subsection expires annually and may be renewed in the form prescribed 34           by the Commissioner upon payment of a renewal fee of two hundred fifty dollars ($250.00).

35           (c)   A purchaser or assignee of a home equity investment loan is subject to this Article to 36           the extent the purchaser or assignee owns, holds, services, collects, or enforces the loan. This 37           section does not require licensure under Article 19B of this Chapter or authorization under 38           subsection (b) of this section solely because a person purchases or acquires a home equity
39           investment loan, but a purchaser or assignee that services the loan or otherwise engages in the 40           mortgage business is subject to Article 19B of this Chapter.

41           (d)   Notwithstanding any agreement to the contrary, a purchaser or assignee of a home
42           equity investment loan is subject to all affirmative claims, counterclaims, defenses, rights of 43           setoff, and rights of recoupment with respect to the loan that the homeowner may assert against 44           the company or any prior holder, servicer, or assignee of the loan.

47           days before closing, a company shall provide to the homeowner all of the following and any 48           additional disclosures required by the Commissioner by rule:

49           (1)   A statement that the transaction is a residential mortgage loan secured by the 50           homeowner's dwelling and that failure to pay may result in foreclosure or

2           (3)    The maximum dollar amount, if any, that the homeowner may be required to 11          not authorized by that section is void and unenforceable against the 12          homeowner.

13          (7)    A statement that the company shall pay all closing costs, the actual and 14          reasonable fees and expenses of the attorney required by G.S. 53-274.6, and

22          the company employee or agent designated to respond to inquiries concerning 23          the loan.
24          (b)    The disclosures required by this section shall be clear and conspicuous and may not 25          be waived by the homeowner. The disclosures shall be provided in English and in each other 26          language in which the company, or a person acting on its behalf, advertises, solicits, negotiates,
27          or explains the transaction to the homeowner.
28          (c)    The Commissioner may prescribe by rule forms for disclosures required by this 29          section. Until a form becomes effective, a company complies with this section by providing the 30          disclosures in a clear written document containing the information required by this section.
31          § 53-274.6. Independent legal counsel.
32          (a)    A company shall not close a home equity investment loan unless the homeowner has 33          been represented in the transaction by an attorney licensed to practice law in this State who is 34          selected by the homeowner and who certifies in writing that the attorney has explained the 35          material terms and legal consequences of the transaction to the homeowner.
36          (b)    The company shall pay the actual and reasonable fees and expenses of the attorney 37          required by this section and shall not directly or indirectly seek reimbursement from the 38          homeowner.
39          (c)    A waiver of the requirements of this section is void.
40          § 53-274.7. Housing counseling.
41          (a)    A company shall not close a home equity investment loan unless the homeowner has 42          received counseling from a housing counselor approved or designated by the Commissioner and 43          selected by the homeowner, and the company has received written certification from the 44          counselor that the homeowner has received counseling on the advisability of the home equity
45          investment loan, the material terms and payment triggers of the loan, the risk of foreclosure or 46          forced sale, the availability of other financial options and resources, and potential tax 47          consequences.
48          (b)    The Commissioner may adopt rules establishing standards for housing counselor
49          approval, training, certification, and disclosures under this section. Until rules become effective,
50          the Commissioner may designate as approved counselors counselors whose names are

8 (a) The company shall pay all closing costs associated with a home equity investment 9 loan.

10 (b) No company shall directly or indirectly charge, collect, finance, capitalize, or include 11 in the amount due under a home equity investment loan any application fee, authorization fee or 12 renewal fee required by G.S. 53-274.4(b), origination fee, broker fee, appraisal fee, title fee,
13 settlement fee, recording fee, document preparation fee, underwriting fee, processing fee, notary
14 fee, courier fee, or similar cost.

15 (c) A contract term in violation of this section is void.

16 "§ 53-274.9. Permitted value-based payment; contractual payment cap; valuation; void
17 terms.

18 (a) A home equity investment loan may require payment determined in whole or in part 19 by reference to the value, equity, appreciation, sale proceeds, or future value of the dwelling or 20 residential real estate only as expressly authorized by this section.

21 (b) The total amount that may be required to be paid by or on behalf of a homeowner to 22 satisfy a home equity investment loan may not exceed the sum of all of the following:

23 (1) The total amount of funds actually advanced to or for the benefit of the 24 homeowner, excluding any amount the company is required to pay under this 25 Article.

26 (2) The total amount of property taxes, insurance premiums, assessments, and 27 other similar charges actually and reasonably advanced by the company to 28 protect the collateral and not reimbursed by the homeowner within 60 days
29 after the date of payment.

30 (3) Only one of the following amounts, if expressly elected in the contract:

31 a. Shared appreciation. – An amount not exceeding ten percent (10%) of 32 the increase in the value of the property from the date of origination of 33 the loan to the date of payment.

34 b. Shared value. – An amount not exceeding ten percent (10%) of the 35 value of the property at the time of payment.

36 (c) No amount described in subdivision (3) of subsection (b) of this section is due,
37 collectible, or enforceable unless the home equity investment loan has been outstanding for at 38 least 24 months. This subsection does not prohibit a homeowner from satisfying the loan before 39 that period by paying the amounts described in subdivisions (1) and (2) of subsection (b) of this 40 section.

41 (d) A contract term that calculates or requires payment by reference to the value, equity,
42 appreciation, sale proceeds, or future value of the dwelling or residential real estate in any manner
43 not expressly authorized by this section is void and unenforceable.

44 (e) No company shall contract for, receive, collect, or attempt to collect from or on behalf
45 of the homeowner any amount, however denominated, except as expressly authorized by this 46 section.

47 (f) For purposes of this section, the value of the property at origination shall be the fair
48 market value of the property, as determined by an appraisal performed by an appraiser licensed
49 or certified under Chapter 93E of the General Statutes. The company shall not apply any discount,
50 risk adjustment, or other reduction to the appraised fair market value. The company shall provide 51 a copy of the appraisal to the homeowner not less than 20 business days before closing. If

2 of the property at the time of payment shall be the fair market value of the property, as determined
3 by an appraisal performed by an appraiser licensed or certified under Chapter 93E of the General
4 Statutes. If the parties are unable to agree on a single appraiser within 30 days after written 5 demand for payment, each party may obtain an appraisal, and the value of the property shall be 6 the average of the appraisals. If the homeowner does not obtain an appraisal within 30 days after 7 the company provides the homeowner a copy of the company's appraisal, the company may rely 8 on its appraisal.

9 (g) If payment is made in conjunction with a bona fide arm's-length sale of the property,
10 the value of the property at the time of payment is the sale price, less the actual and reasonable 11 costs of sale.

12 (h) Nothing in this section shall be construed to limit the application of Chapter 24 of the 13 General Statutes to a home equity investment loan or to prevent any amount required to be paid 14 by or on behalf of a homeowner under a home equity investment loan from being treated as 15 interest, charges, or consideration for the use or forbearance of money. Any amount required to 16 be paid by or on behalf of a homeowner under a home equity investment loan in excess of the 17 amounts authorized by this section shall be treated as interest, charges, or consideration for the 18 use or forbearance of money for purposes of Chapter 24 of the General Statutes.

19 (i) A home equity investment loan contract that exceeds the payment cap required by 20 this section, omits the applicable cap, or provides for value-based payment in a manner not 21 expressly authorized by this section is void and unenforceable against the homeowner.

26 the property securing the loan, and the company shall not obtain a deficiency judgment against 27 the homeowner.

39 loan and fails to cure the impairment within 90 days after written notice from 40 the company.

41 (5) The homeowner dies and the dwelling is no longer occupied as a principal
42 dwelling by any person who is a surviving joint owner, surviving spouse, heir, 43 devisee, or other successor in interest and who holds or succeeds to an 44 ownership interest in the dwelling and remains bound by the security 45 instrument.

46 (b) If a home equity investment loan becomes due and the homeowner notifies the 47 company then entitled to collect or enforce the loan that the homeowner cannot pay without 48 selling the dwelling, the company shall, directly or through a person authorized to engage in the 49 mortgage business under Article 19B of this Chapter and before initiating foreclosure or

- (3) Requires substantially equal monthly payments of principal and interest over a term of not less than 120 months.
- (4) Does not require points, origination fees, or a prepayment penalty.

(c) When a homeowner's obligation to pay a home equity investment loan is triggered under subsection (a) of this section, in addition to any other notice required by Chapter 45 of the General Statutes, the company shall give the homeowner not less than 90 days' written notice and an opportunity to cure before commencing foreclosure or otherwise enforcing the debt.

"§ 53-274.12. Annual statement and account history.

The statement shall include all of the following:

- (1) The amount advanced to the homeowner during the statement period and cumulatively.
- (2) Any taxes, insurance premiums, assessments, or similar protective advances paid by the company during the statement period and cumulatively.
- (3) Any amounts paid by or on behalf of the homeowner during the statement period and cumulatively.
- (4) The current amount that would be due if the loan were paid on the date of the statement without a sale, calculated in accordance with G.S. 53-274.9.
- (5) The method most recently used to determine the value of the dwelling for purposes of the loan.
- (6) The name, address, telephone number, and electronic mail address, if any, of the company employee or agent designated to respond to inquiries concerning the loan.

"§ 53-274.13. Company default.

(a) A company's failure to advance funds to or on behalf of the homeowner, pay an amount the company is required to pay to or for the benefit of the homeowner under this Article, or otherwise perform a material funding obligation under a home equity investment loan contract or written commitment is a default by the company.

(b) Upon default by the company, the company forfeits any right to collect an amount described in G.S. 53-274.9(b)(3), interest, fees, charges, or any other amount in excess of the funds actually advanced to or for the benefit of the homeowner, excluding any amount the company is required to pay under this Article, and any protective advances described in G.S. 53-274.9(b)(2). The company's right to recover when the loan becomes due is limited to those amounts, less all amounts paid by or on behalf of the homeowner.

(c) Subsection (b) of this section does not apply if the company cures the default within the time stated in the home equity investment loan contract or written commitment or within 30 days after receiving written notice from the homeowner that the advance, payment, or other performance was not made, whichever is later.
